DEDICATION

Mr. Herbert J. Stepaniak first taught at U of D High in 1925. In 1927 he left to teach at Jesuit high schools in Ohio and Wisconsin. In 1940 he returned to U of D where he remained for thirty-five years. As a physics teacher and later as a college counselor, Mr. Stepaniak earned the respect of students, faculty, and college personnel. Because of his many years of loyal service to the U of D High community, his death is greatly mourned. To his memory this yearbook is gratefully dedicated.

CENTENNIAL RECOLLECTIONS

This year we of the University of Detroit High School celebrate our one hundredth year of continuing the Jesuit tradition of education in Detroit. For a full century the High has produced young gentlemen of academic, athletic, and spiritual distinction.

When U. of D. High was founded in 1877, it was called the Detroit College and was located in the Trowbridge Mansion on East Jefferson. Three years later the school moved to the brand new Dowling Hall, which presently serves as part of the U. of D. Law School. In those days tuition was $40 a year. Fr. James Foley S. J., president at the end of the century, ran the first scholarship drive and earned $300.

By 1912 the structure of Detroit College reflected that of the American system of district high school and college divisions. The school continued to grow, and in 1920, 480 students were accepted. In this decade the Cubs entered the Detroit Metropolitan League, playing local public schools in football, basketball, and other sports. In 1929 the footballers won their first city championship. Meanwhile, after the University also moved to its uptown campus, the high school finalized plans to build in the "country". Work began on the site in 1930.

In 1930 the Cubs again won the city championship in football. The Class of '31 was the last to graduate from East Jefferson; the new school was literally located in the farmland. The school building and the adjoining Jesuit residence were completed, but plans for a gymnasium were set aside for the time because of the depression. In 1933, athletic director Fr. William Foley, S.J. hired Robert F. Tiernan as the High's football coach. "Bucky" Tiernan coached the Cubs for 29 years, compiling a record of 150 victories, 52 defeats, and 9 ties. His first championship team played in 1939.

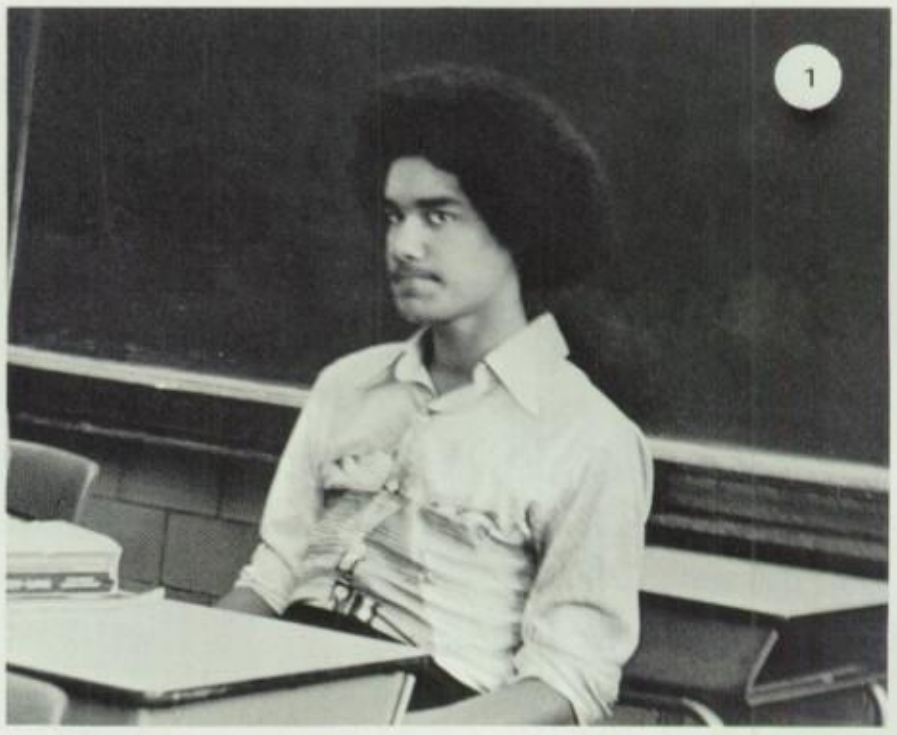
In 1941 the United States entered World War II. Many U. of D. High men lost their lives in the war, the first of whom was John Wallace '36, who died in the battle of Java Sea. In those days a military obstacle course was set up on school grounds.

In 1949 U. of D. High was recognized as completely separate from the University, and Fr. Gilbert Stein, S.J. was named the first president. Work began on the new gym, which was dedicated to the alumni who had died in the war. In this decade Mr. Stackable first became associated with the High.

In the 1950's while Mr. Stepaniak shocked his classes with his static electricity machine, school population increased until it has reached a total of 1300 students in 1958. The football Cubs won the Goodfellow Game in 1954 against Redford St. Mary's, after losing the game to the Rustics the year before. Fr. Listerman trained actors in the Harlequins, including actor Michael Moriarty '59. Fr. Linz's group performed Gilbert and Sullivan operas at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Mr. Gargin joined the school in 1950, and Mr. Tenbusch first taught English at the High in 1957.

In the 1960's the Cubs left the Public School League to play in the Catholic League Central Division. Two of the High's most beloved figures, Mr. Donald Gulock and Senor Jose Rodriguez, began teaching during this decade, Mr. John Knopp introduced computer programming to the U. of D. curriculum. In 1969 Mr. Tiernan retired, and his wife, the school librarian, retired soon after. Fr. Lab served as principal, and Fr. Thomas Radloff as president for a year. In 1969 the Cubs won the Central Division championship, and welcomed visiting Fr. Pedro Arrupe, Father General of the Society of Jesus.

In 1970 Fr. P. Douglas Keller, S.J. became president. In 1973, school spirit found a lift in the fifteen-mile Century Walk, which raised $40,000 for the school. Similar fund-raising projects have followed every year since then. In 1973 the Jesuit Academy was founded for eighth graders; seventh graders were added the following year.



1. A stress on the individual. 2. Spirited crowds whatever the score. 3. Liturgy.

The Cubs have won two Catholic League basketball finals in this decade, in 1972 and in 1975, under coaches Bill Thibodeau and Dan Hafner. The Cub debaters distinguished themselves by winning the New York Invitational tournament in '75, and ranking among the country's top ten teams the following year. The track team won the state regional meet in 1976.

This centennial year has been filled with questions about the future of U. of D. High School. Yet, the High now has a century of tradition and experience in quality education behind it. We can fully expect another century of continued excellence.

4. The free expression of values in a Jesuit atmosphere. 5. A continuing tradition of academic excellence. 6. Extracurricular involvement and student leadership.

After a surprising season-opening victory over a horrified Shrine team 26-0, the Cub gridders then proceeded to lose their next two games to Divine Child and Catholic Central by scores of 14-7 and 28-0, respectively.

The Cubs were down but not out when they played DeLaSalle before a large homecoming crowd. They responded with a well-earned 20-14 victory. Coach Lou Offer's squad then lost three tough games to Brother Rice, Bishop Borgess, and Notre Dame. With one game left that meant nothing but personal pride, the gridders once again thumped Royal Oak Shrine.

The highlight of the season had to be Rick Jones' being named All-City, All-Catholic, All-State and All-American.

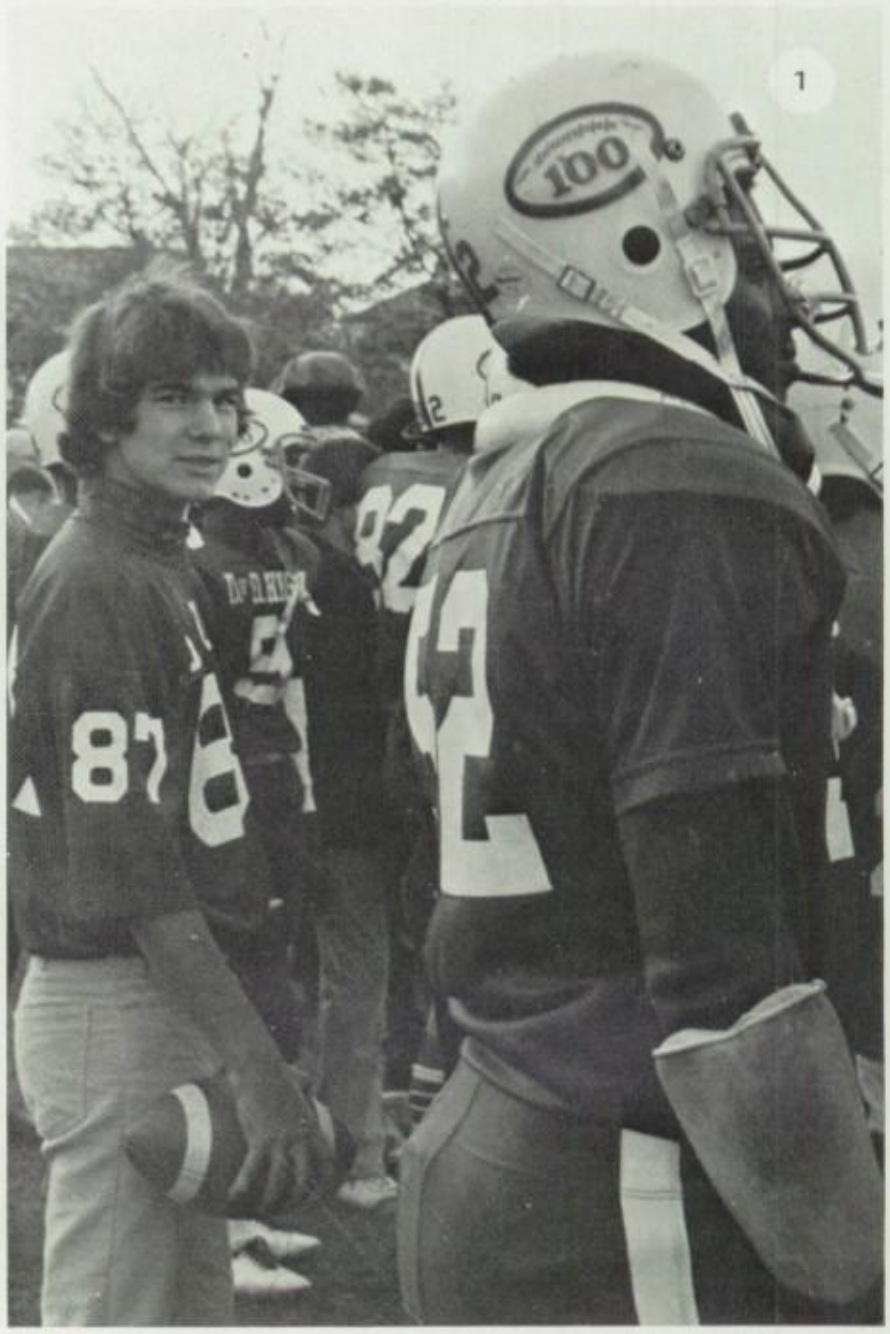
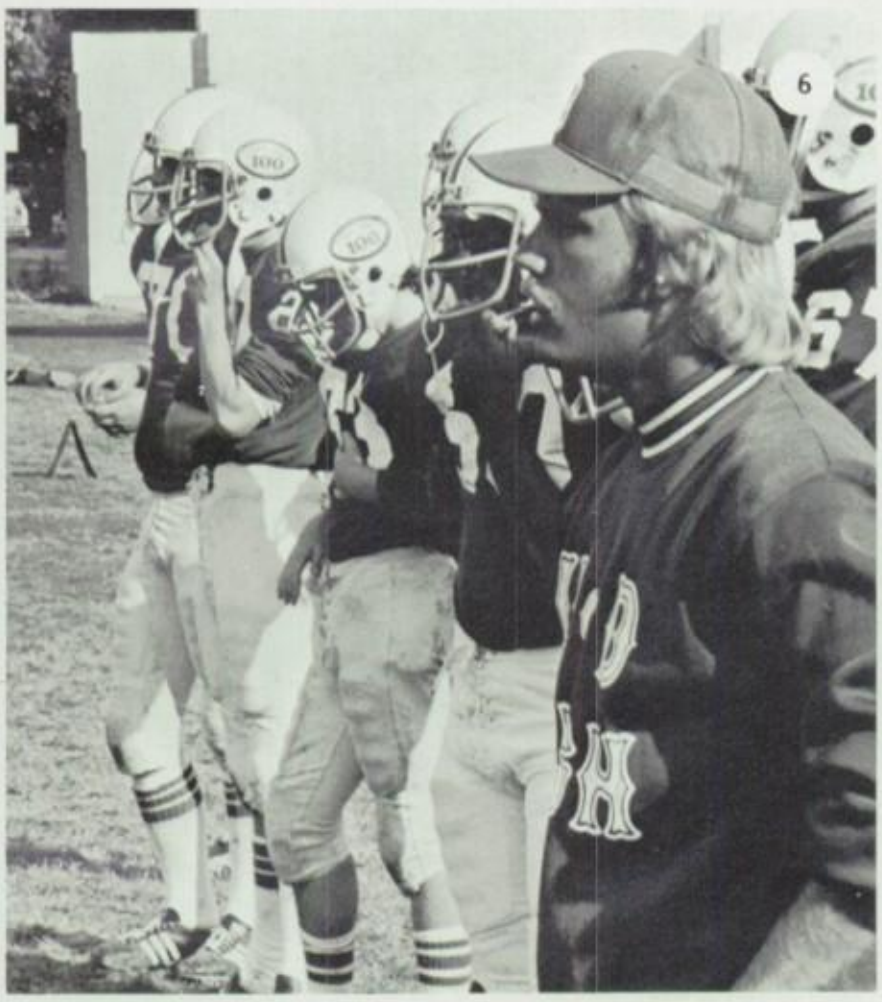
J.V. FOOTBALL





Every September, the most unknown athletes in the school are Junior Varsity football players. They practice on the front field in the muddy grass with their only publicity being their scores being read across the P.A. system following a Monday afternoon game. And yet, Coaches Bennet and Ostrowski's team still played with vigor.

Junior Varsity football gave its participants a chance to display their talents, since there is a place on the team for everyone provided they express the desire to work and have fun at the same time.

This year's edition of J.V. football did just that. Though their record was not outstanding, 2-6, members of the team learned a lot about themselves and the people on the team. For all the players, this past season was quite satisfying.

1. Number 52 (Eric Duncan) watches the game while injured player number 87 (Tim Kearns) gives the camera a cute smile. 2. J.V. gridder Cyrus Shaw waits for the handoff from quarterback Tom Barret. 3. The Cubs are ready to roll!! 4. Numbers 79 and 80 (Ernest Quarles and Victor Thompson) discuss future strategy. 5. Injured Varsity star Steve "Tiger" Puhr helps out at the J.V. game. 6. Coach Ostrowski looks on.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The 1976 Freshman Football schedule was a long, hard road for both the players and their coaches, Messrs. Tom Woiwode and John Demor. The road led to an unfortunate 1 and 6 won-lost record but was lined with many gains. The team learned how to put up an exciting show and how to win and lose with grace. Two new coaches were broken in this year and a crop of always learning football players was harvested for the falls to come. Hopefully this year's maturing will add to the J.V. team next year.

It all begins with a dream to become the best. The runner knows that there are others better than himself, yet he has that hope, that dream to make it all the way. He also knows that it will demand work.

Training early in the morning, he feels pain and anguish. Cold air constricts his lungs. Uphill stretches torture his limbs and shave his breath. Small rises in the road loom as great barriers.

Yet each day he returns, and runs for time, for speed, for hope of future victory.

That is the beginning. Later, he runs well, because his dream has possessed him. If he pauses in the pursuit of his dream, he begins again, realizing that he cannot do without it.

GOLF

Even though the season record was a disappointing 2-7-1, the Cub golfers had a lot of fun. The season opened with a heartbreaking one-stroke loss to a strong Catholic Central team. After a victory over De La Salle, the golfers lost a close match to Brother Rice and another to Bishop Borgess. The team did not give up, but played harder, defeating Notre Dame and losing to league champions Catholic Central. The Cubs completed the season with three losses and a tie. Perhaps the brightest spot of the 1977 season was Mike Costello's election to first team all-city.

BOWLING VARSITY

In the midst of the splish-splash of young men swimming and the occasional swish heard at basketball practice, there was a renewed sound heard at the High this past winter — the explosion of pins on the bowling lanes.

The bowling team was one of the most successful teams at U of D during the 1976-77 season. In the "A" division, the Cubs were disappointed as they found themselves in 7th place in the eight team league. The "B" team was entirely different. Composed of lower-averaged bowlers than the "A" team. The "B" team struck and spared their way to second place in the Boys' Catholic High School League with some fine team bowling.

Moderator Mr. Chris Buryta directed the team's efforts from the sidelines and offered more than enough moral encouragement. Even under the constant presure from several fine teams, the men from the "B" team kept the rest of the league looking at them.

1. Robert Parker is disgusted with himself after missing another easy spare. 2. The ever-present Mr. Buryta offers a little bit of encouragement of Freshman Tony Voiles. 3. Tom MacDonald, a top "B" bowler, hopes that his team can win the game. 4. Tom MacDonald watches Ron Simons strike in the 10th frame to help the team beat a stubborn Austin. 5. Ron Tash and John Kurpinski wait and hope for the best. 6. John Kurpinski teaches Bill Craig how to keep score.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Despite a dismal 4-18 season record, the Cubs still showed signs of brilliance. The Cub cagers and Coach Dan Hafner gained all their wins in tournament play.

After losing their first five games, the Cubs roared in the annual Venture Classic at Bishop Foley where they won the championship by trouncing both Foley and DeLaSalle. The Cubs then hit another losing string, this time of 12 games of the regular season.

The team then entered the State Tournament, where surprisingly, they made it to the District Finals by beating Clarenceville and Oak Park before losing to Inkster in an overtime thriller.

The team had a great year and would like to thank and express their gratitude to those who helped: Managers Tom MacDonald and Art Espey, Trainer Mr. Coyne, and coaches and the fans.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Relying on a lineup which consisted of two sophomores and three freshmen, Coach Tom Daniels led the U of D High School Junior Varsity to an 8-11 record.

The team's offensive punch was supplied by Cyrus Shaw and Romallus Murphy, who had the best shooting percentages on the team. Chris Mallow and Marty Smith formed a backcourt which proved equal to any press that it faced. Sophomore Blaise Conti was the team's outstanding defensive player. His consistent rebounding and shot-blocking demonstrated his skills on the boards.

The highlight of the season was a come-from-behind, double-overtime victory over eventual league champ Catholic Central on their home court.

Although their record was mediocre, the experience and friendship gained by the 1976-77 Reserves should be invaluable in Varsity Coach Dan Hafner's drive toward a Catholic League title.

FRESHMEN AND ACADEMY B-BALL

For the first time in several years, the members of the Freshmen basketball team gave the U of D High Community a winning season.

Under the supervision of Coach Frank Reeser and led by players Eric Ayers, Roderick Atkins, Sherman Cain, and Derwood Haynes, the tiny Cubs battled their way to an impressive 12-3 record.

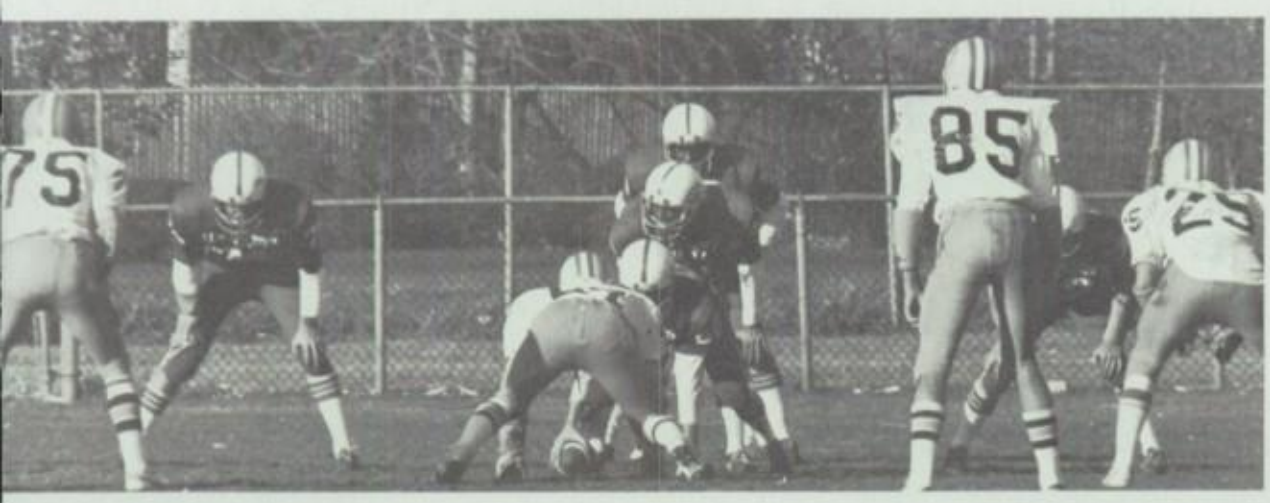
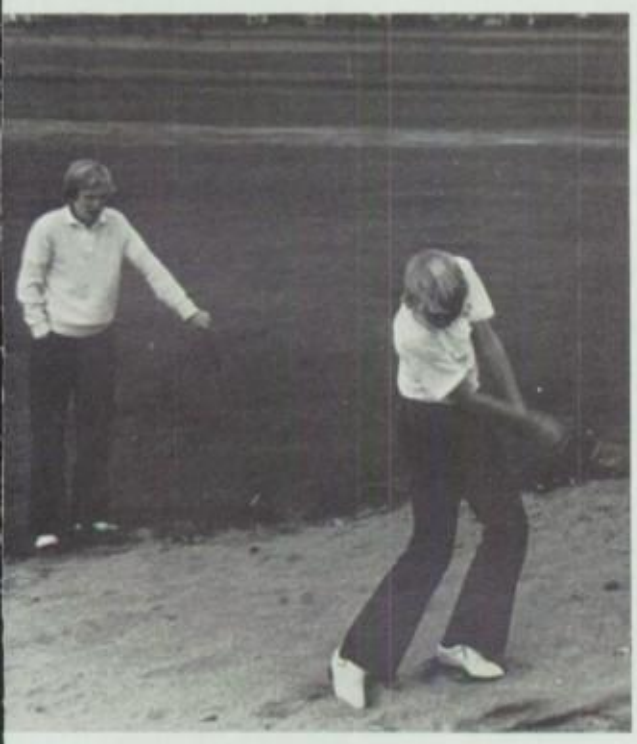
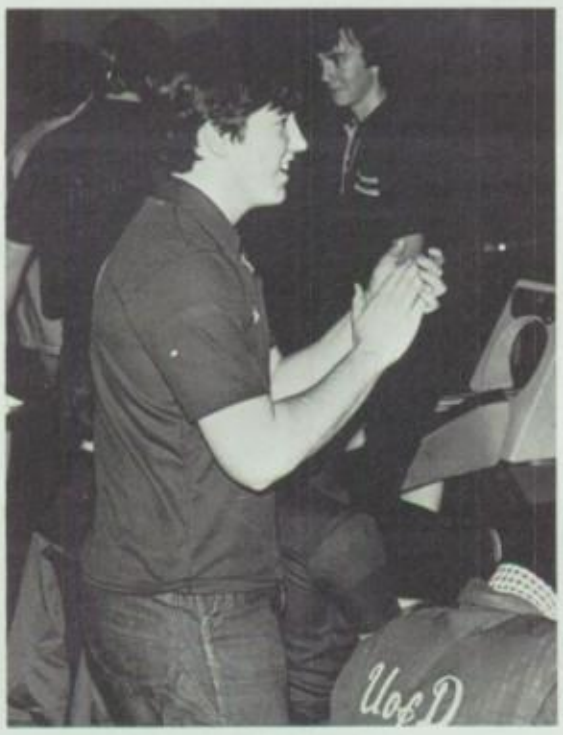
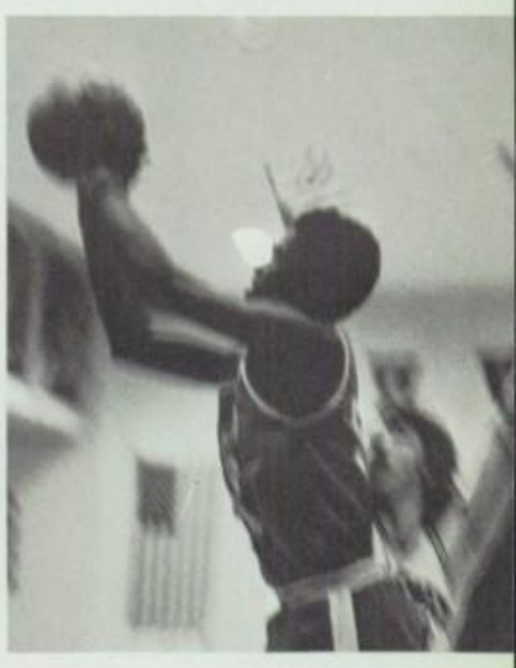
REFLECTIONS

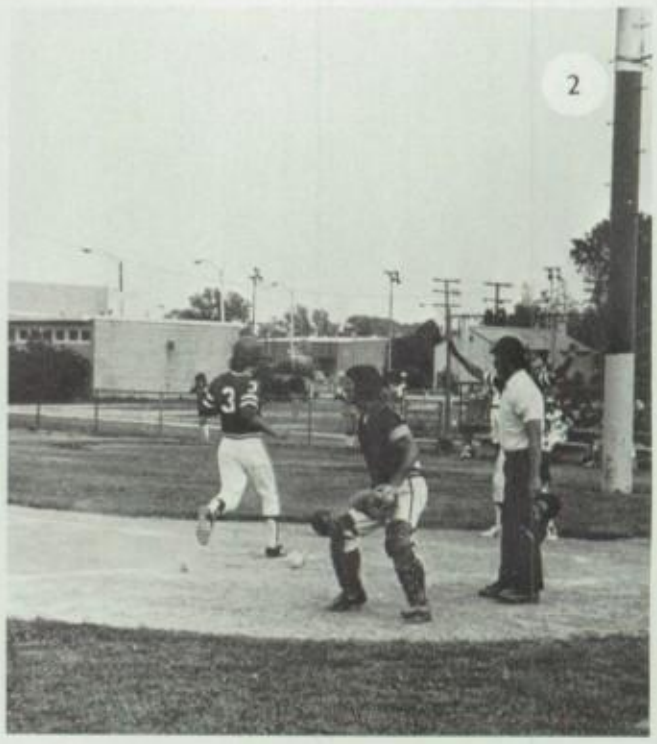








BASEBALL



It was Tom Buczak, a former U of D High student, who said "Consistent hitting, pitching and fielding are essential ingredients needed to produce a winning (baseball) team." The right combination of these three ingredients was to evade the 1977 Cub Baseball team for almost the entire season.

Coach Frank Reeser was impressed with the sterling performances of Sean Sullivan and Bob Hoff as well as J-V'ers Chris Mallow and Marty Smith. Most of the team members, which consisted mainly of sophomores and juniors, refused to give up despite a losing record. One can be sure that the Cubs will be back next year — eager, experienced and ready to win it all.

SWIMMING

After a nearly dormant 1976 season, the Cub tankers have set out to regain their famous prominence in the Catholic League. Coached by Mr. Bruce Elkins and captained by Brian F. Sullivan and Terry Kruse, the Cubs were contenders all the way.

Pat McGuire and Dean Sykes led the team in the freestyle events while seniors Mike Bauer, Lou Moran, and Chris Klein consistently scored in the diving events. Underclass strength was a key factor in the team's success. Juniors Pat McGuire, Bill Vincent, Dave Considine, and Dave Sarnacki; Sophomores Greg Desmond and Terry McInerney; and Freshman Dean Sykes formed the nucleus of the team.

The promising underclassmen on the team make future success a certainty.

TRACK

2

Perhaps if one were to look at the 3-3 dual meet record of the 1977 Cub Track team, one would think that this had been a year of mediocrity. But this was a year of sacrifice, pain and hard work by all of the trackmen and their coaches, John Tenbusch and Jerry Myzkowski.

3

The victories over Notre Dame, Bishop Borgess and DeLaSalle were enjoyed by all members of the team. But disastrous defeats by C.C. and Rice were losses that hurt one and all. Of course there were individual efforts which caused a feeling of pride among the trackmen: Jim Powers' being named All-State in the hurdles and the relay team of Dick Hall, Willy McClung, Eddie Broom, and Lance Petross racing for a first place finish and All-City recognition.

Just a handful of students bothered to watch the track team. Many probably weren't aware of its wins or losses. Nonetheless, the 1977 track team did its darndest to represent U of D High. Congratulations and thanks from each student are certainly in order.

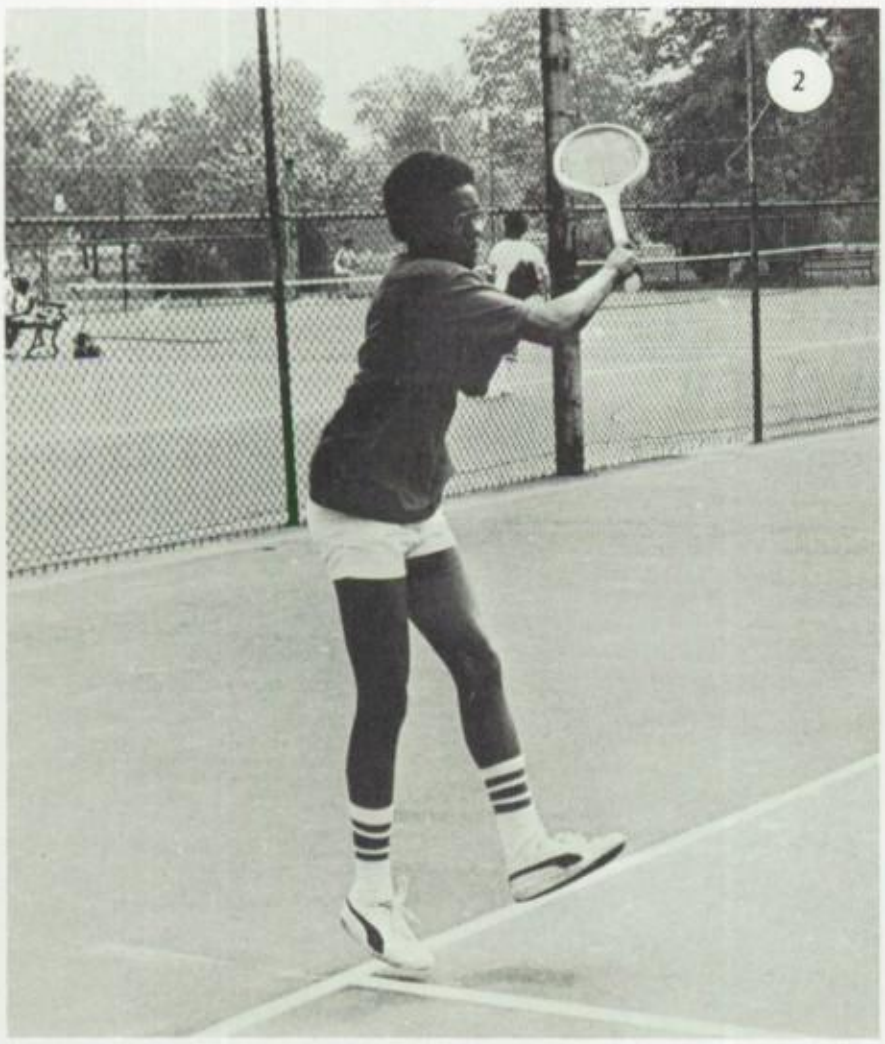
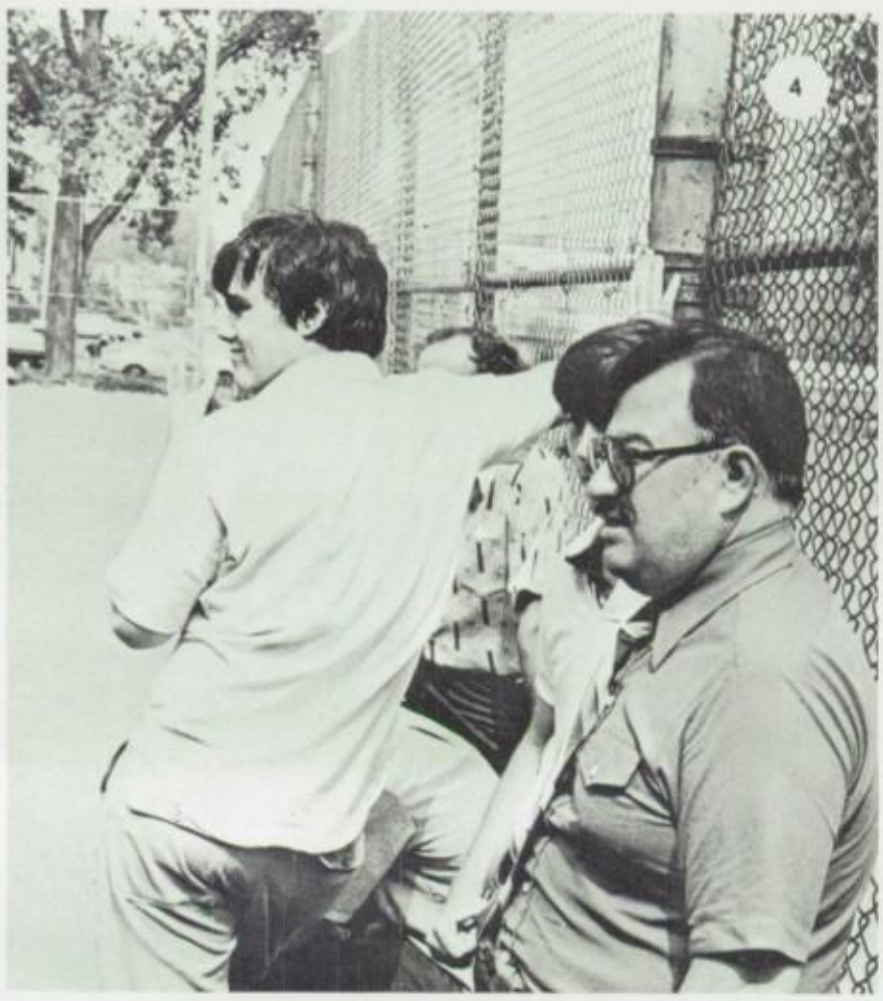
TENNIS

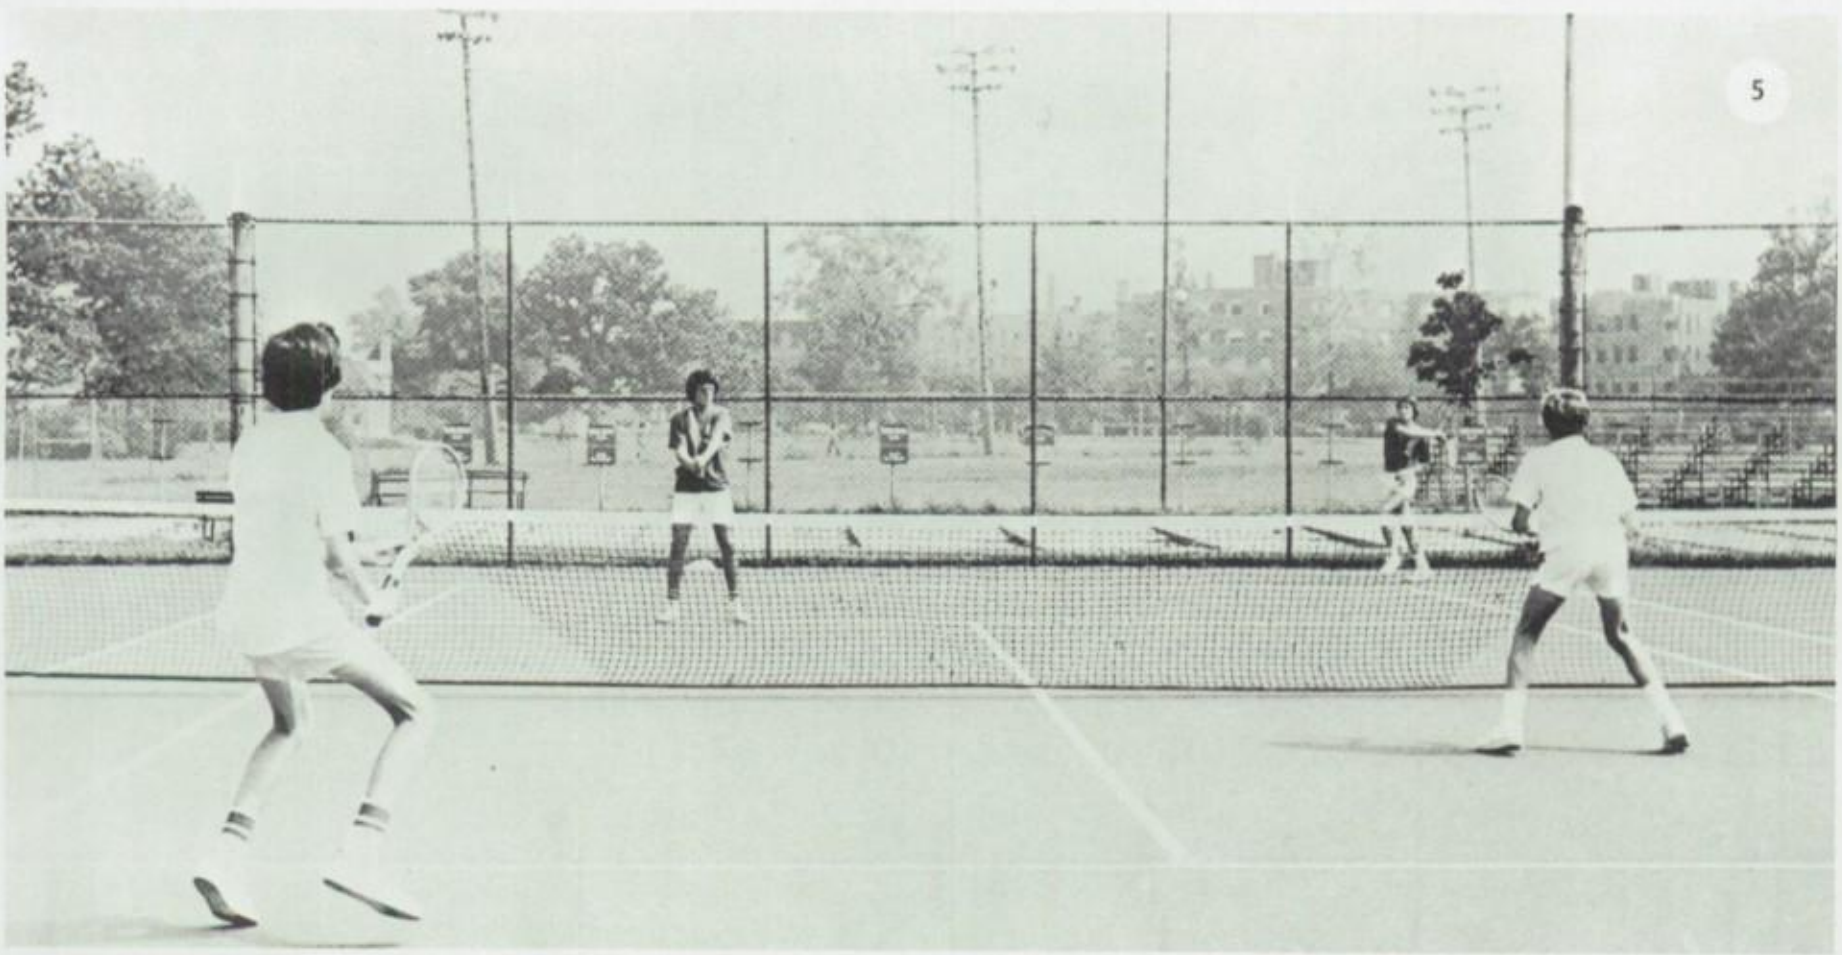


In the midst of the pitter-patter of little feet running track and the cries of the baseball team, there was another sound heard this spring at the High: the thump of tennis balls.

After opening the season with easy victories over Saint Andrew, Bishop Borgess, Notre Dame, and De-LaSalle, the Cub netters met with some disappointment. Both Brother Rice and Catholic Central destroyed the team's chance for a Catholic League title with narrow victories. Although the team finished second in its division, it didn't quit; the team played excellent ball in the regionals, where they came in third.

With only three seniors on the squad, the 1978 U of D High Tennis Team should be a winner.





1. The 1977 U of D High Varsity Tennis Team. 2. Co-captain Melvin Hollowell returns a serve. 3. Senior John Tindall lets one get by. 4. Coach Joseph Rodriguez looks on in the midst of another Cub victory. 5. Paul Sarnacki and Brian Lokar overpower their opponents.

SENIOR PROM

Senior Prom — it had to be the event of the year. The members of the class of '77 went out in style. And well they should, after all, they were the centennial year graduates. The prom was the first ever celebrated in the Detroit Plaza Hotel located in the glamourous Rennaissance Center. And if the setting didn't make the evening, the band did. "Masquerade" gave a great performance for the crowd of close to a hundred couples. The music ranged from the California sounds of the Beach Boys to the mellow tunes of Hall and Oates. What more can be said? It was a perfect ending to senior year.

WALK

For the fourth consecutive year, the Student Senate led the school in a drive to supplement Grant-in-Aid funds. This year's officers created "Hands Across the Water," a joint endeavor with Assumption High School of Windsor.

After months of preparation by the Senate and weeks of pledge-collecting by the students, the walk began with an enthusiastic rally in the gym. Such favorites as Mr. Belvedere urged the students on to success. The walkers boarded buses for Vernier and Lakeshore roads. There, before cameras and reporters, Congressman Lucien Nedzi cut the ceremonial ribbon and began the walk.

As the afternoon progressed the men of U-D High trudged down Jefferson Avenue toward Belle Isle and the refreshments the Mothers' Club had graciously prepared for them. When at last they had arrived, they forgot their feet and enjoyed the picnic. The effort was brought to its successful conclusion when a check for $22,000 was presented to Fr. Keller by Student Senate president Roger Barris at a subsequent rally.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The 1977 UDHS Senate will always be remembered for its large number of social events. For a while it seemed as if there was a Senate event every weekend.

Among the most memorable were the Senior Prom, the Barn Dance, and the Moondance (which, incidentally, was the first of its type among Detroit-area high schools).

The five officers, Roger Barris, Tim Hurley, Mike Workings, Tony Vizzini, and Dan Giancarlo, all strived to make a difficult school year bearable. They made great progress in the short time they were in office and their efforts will be felt in the years to come. And, of course, one can not forget the steadfast performances of co-moderators Mr. Bila and Mr. Buryta.

CONVENTION

Just before Easter vacation started, the Senate nominated two candidates for each of the five Senate offices. For the ten nominees, the weeks that would follow would see some trying times — the banner that wouldn't stay up, the campaign worker that wouldn't show up, and the opposition that wouldn't give up.

For five it would all be worthwhile; but for the rest there would be a handshake, a lot of second-guessing, and the inner satisfaction of thinking that they were the better candidates. The winners (Dave Tarnas, Paul Wang, Kevin McNeir, Joe Mueller, and Chris Carbott) will reign over the Senate in the year to come. The losers (Ken Miranda, Pat Sorek, John Shelly, John Zaroff, and Frank Borovsky) will hopefully stay on in a lesser position. In any case, the upcoming year's Senate should prove to be an interesting one.

LIVING FAITH

The science of God can be learned in the classroom, but faith must be practiced. Students are provided with the opportunity to practice and live their Christian faith in liturgy and retreats.

Every morning before school the Eucharist is offered in the student chapel. In addition, special masses are said for each class and for the entire student body at the Mass of the Holy Spirit. At seasonal penance services are reconciled with Christ and with each other.

Each class makes a three day retreat at Oxley, Ontario. Retreats are an opportunity to be alone with God and together with others who are seeking him in prayer and dialogue.

HARLEQUINS FALL PLAY THE CRUCIBLE

In mid-November the Harlequins presented THE CRUCIBLE. Major roles were played by Dave Tarnas, Anne Hittler, Joyce Toth, Hayward Maben, and Jim Oswald. Ron Simons and Bob Fisher acted as student director and producer respectively.

The play necessitated a production full of hate, terror, and compassion. For anyone who saw the play, the prologue, written and choreographed by Ms. Julie Ouvry and Mr. Dennis East, set this mood well.

The assistance and dedication of Mrs. Crane can't be forgotten. The stage, costumes, lighting, and financing were all taken care of by her. Mr. Hall's patience and experience helped a somewhat inexperienced cast fulfill its roles excellently.

1. The tea party. 2. Musicians John Zaroff and Bob Allen and actor Chester Jamison during the rehearsal. 3. "The Ascot Gavotte". 4. Eliza Dolittle portrayed by Mary Valenti. 5. Harlequin hosts. 6. Professor Higgins.

The audition, the five to midnight rehearsals, opening night mass, Franny and Zoey, curtain, the candle that just wouldn't stay lit, and the closing night curtain are but a few of the many treasured moments held by a U of D Harlequin.

After ending their '76-'77 season with MY FAIR LADY, the Harlequins lost many of their seasoned actors and actreses to graduation. There will be a certain something missing without Joyce, Dennis, Suzy, Brian, Eileen, and Clashow there to break the monotony of rehearsing a scene over and over.

Of course it wouldn't have all happened without the patience, ingenuity, and experience of director Mr. Hall, producer Mrs. Crane, choreographer Mr. East, vocal director Ms. Ouvry, and orchestra directors Mr. Bawol and Mr. Sckrinski.

So, to the oncoming Harlequins — welcome, to the presently active Harlequins — stay with it, and to the graduating Harlequins — thank you and adieu!

DEBATE

This year's debate team had many outstanding individual performers. Silver-tongued Butch Hollowell turned out to be the nation's first memorable Black debator. Partner Doc Wang was the first full-blooded Chinese national debate force. However, the most integrated team didn't outdo the "Super Sophs," Powell Miller and Ray Check. Their stellar performances promised that the two will become debate demi-Gods.

For his four long years of service, Bill Belanger deserved a trophy and he got it. With that kind of attitude, the numerous up-and-comers can't help but make U of D next year's Valhalla. Leroy Braxton, Dave Greenwald, and John Woll worked hard at creating their own legends. (John even sustained personal injury.) O'Shea and Zachary bragged of being the best novices, but we'll never forget Allandt, Currie, Deslippe, Duvernois, Hurley, Immergluck, Regis, Rohl, and Jim Kerwin. Thank you, Rick Neaton.

FORENSICS

Forensics is the generic term used for competitive speaking where the speeches are not dependent on the speeches given by one's opponents. This year has been marked by the "thrills of victory" and the "agonies of defeat." Equality of the two, however is another matter.

Who would think that Roger Barris on his first and only attempt would take a first place in Boys Extemp? Or who would imagine Rick Smart getting a perfect score through all three rounds of competition in one day? Or who would believe that the King of Munchkins, Jeff Slugget, would beat a slew of girls in the female-dominated category of Story Telling? And who would believe that Jim Hughes' perseverance would earn him a spot in the Nationals? If one thinks that these facts are fit for Ripley, then who would think that Tony Vizzini would place second at the National Congress held in Milwaukee?

But now the more believable events that have happened throughout the year. This year saw Tom Naski becoming the characters of Bill Cosby's "Noah's Ark" — to no avail. Tom Biscup tried to find a category that he could do well in and quality for the Nationals with, but the two goals never did meet. Peter "the Greek" Lambropoulos tried with Woody Allen as his writer and failed. Viva la Greek. Mark Dreyer appeared — that's a tragedy in itself. Mark Nagel incurred the wrath of about everyone simply by speaking well. But the greatest tragedy of the year was the disbanding of the once-famous multiple team.

Forensics had been more than a few glory-filled moments and series of disappointments. It had been a way of life, a source of friendships for four years. Its sad now to have to say goodbye. Thanks, Ace, for everything.

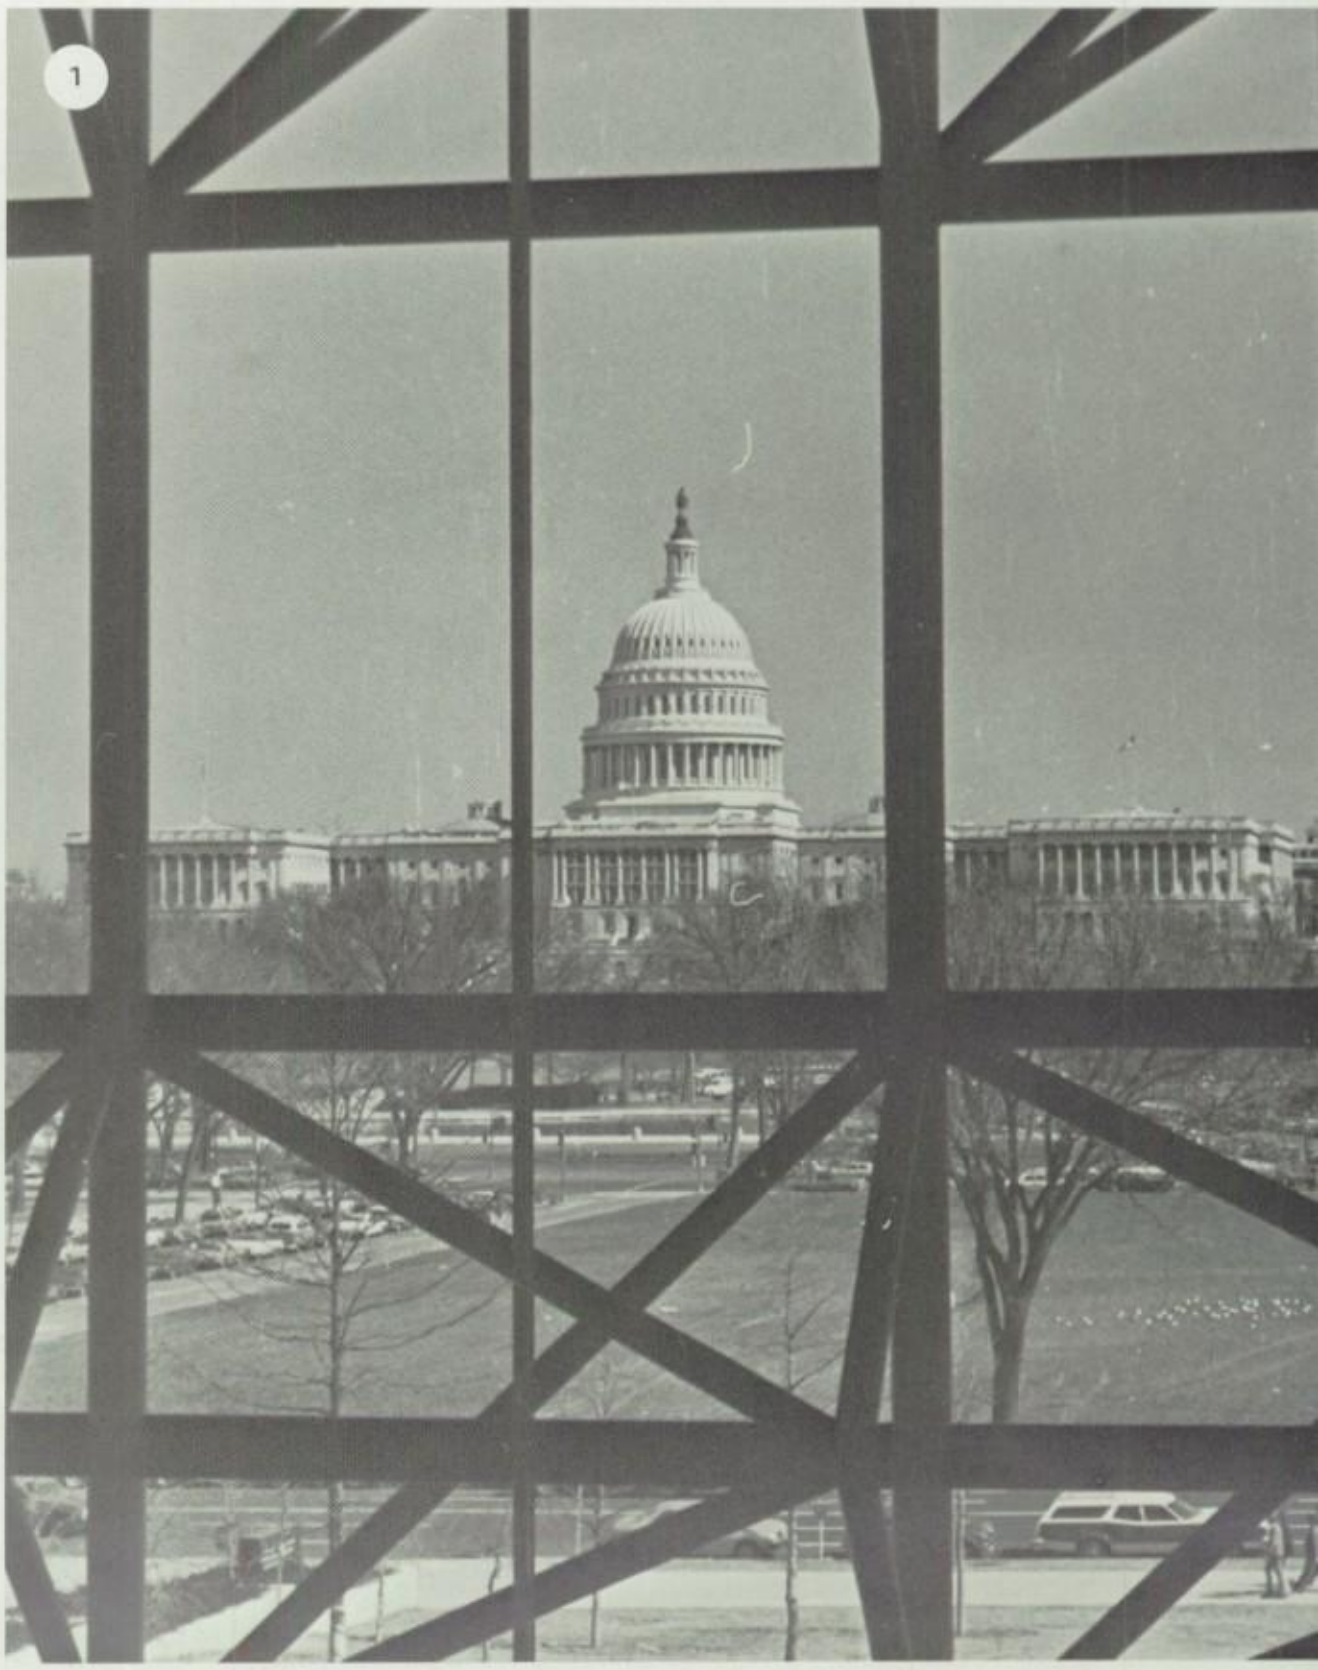
MODEL UNITED NATIONS CLUB



MUN started in November when a delegation of twenty students attended the Marian Model United Nations. Later, in January, the club hosted its own. Other schools in attendance included Mercy, Marian, Brother Rice, and Southfield Lathrup.

On March 3rd, moderator Mr. Michael A. Vincent, S.J. took a group of ten students to the North American Invitational Model United Nations. There, co-presidents Mark Nagel and Mark Dreyer took first place in the Law of the Sea Conference. The delegation of ten students representing New Zealand was among the top five in the nation. Other activities in Washington included a tour of the city and a visit to the National Air and Space Museum.

Upon returning, the group received recognition at the Mercy Model Economic and Social Council for Hunger Day. The year's activities ended at the Brother Rice Model Senate.

CUB NEWS

The CUB NEWS, this year, was the result of the efforts of a few individuals. Their work was often thankless. No matter how much time (and, believe me, there was a lot of it) spent on putting together the NEWS, the student body maintained a cynical view of the bimonthly publication. They were, and maybe always will be, quick to criticize but hesitant to suggest ideas. And as for actually helping out — as long as the staff of the CUB NEWS remains at a meager fifteen or twenty students, one can not possibly hope for true quality work. But, as has been the case in recent years, the real rewards for the members of the NEWS have been pride in their work, a sense of accomplishment, and the satisfaction of knowing that they helped.

The major members of the CUB NEWS were:

Publisher/Moderator	Mr. Carl Saam
Editor-in-Chief	Mark G. Pavach
News Editor	Patrick A. Sorek
Sporting Editor	D. Kevin McNeir
Photography Editor	Peter Kelley
Production Director	Walter Booker
Office Manager	Thomas A. Biscup

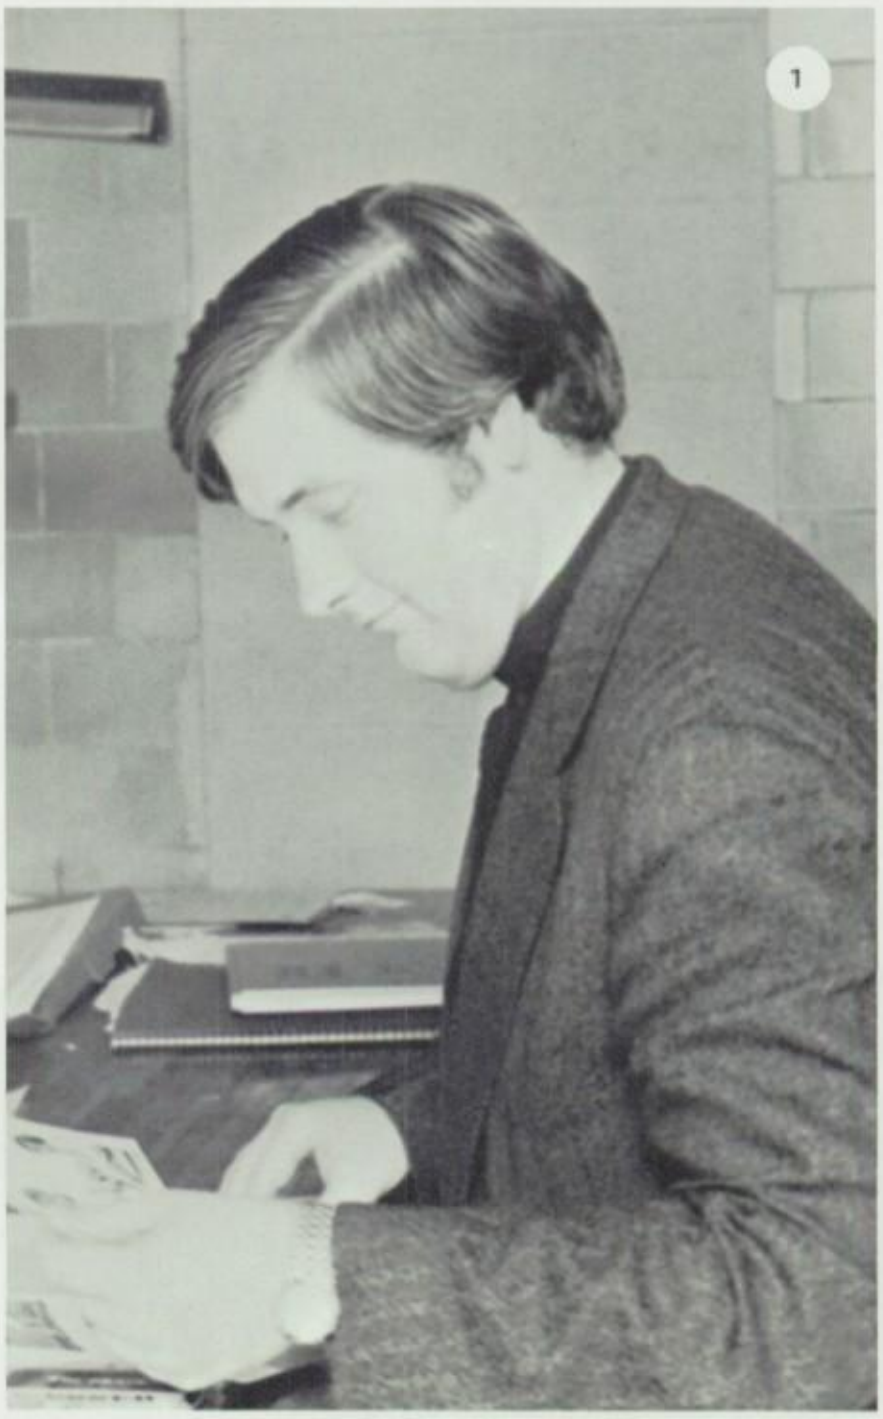
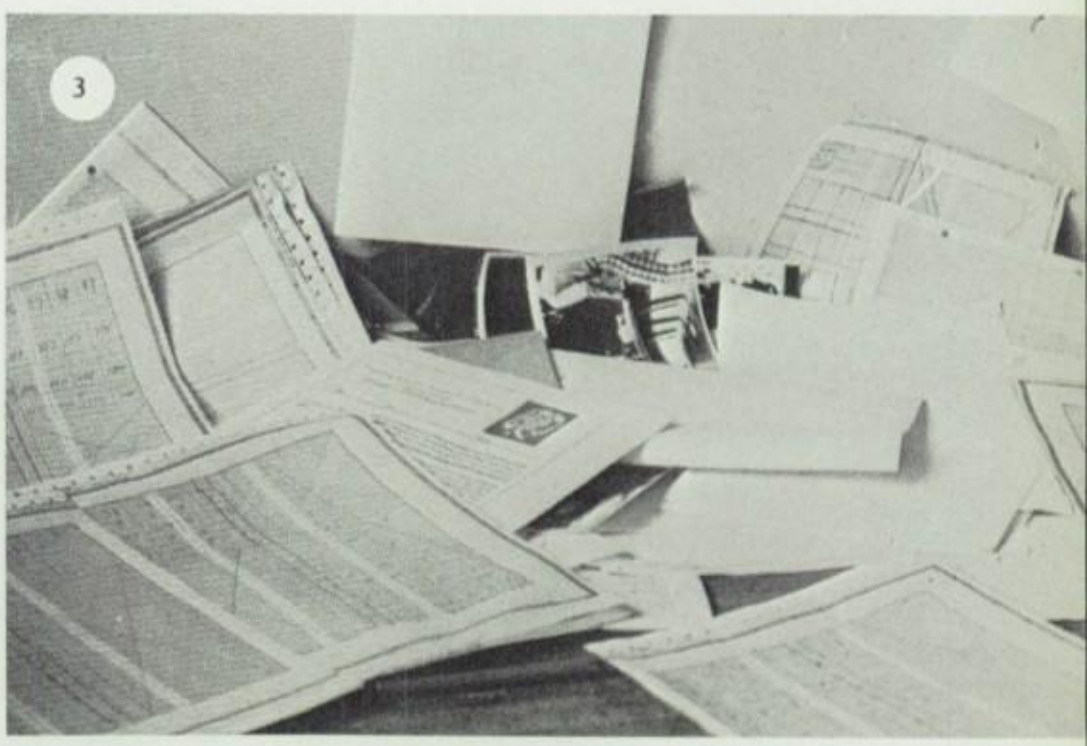
CUB ANNUAL

This year's Cub Annual staff was one of the most inexperienced in recent times. All the major editors' positions were filled with people who, up until August, 1976, had had little or no experience with the procedures involved in putting together a yearbook. And if the photography department had quality, it certainly lacked quantity; as no more than three photographers were ever working on the book at the same time. To top it all off, the staff was further burdened by the departure of its Underclass Editor about half way through the year. There's no doubt about it — there were times when it seemed the book might never get done. But in spite of it all, you have it — be glad of that.

1. Yearbook Moderator Mr. Michael A. Vincent S. J. 2. Photographer James Foran. 3. The office is clean for once.





PEP CLUB

The Pep Club is in existence for the primary purpose of instilling school spirit into the hearts and minds of the students at U of D High.

This task was undertaken in 1977 by a great group of juniors and seniors. They were led by their captain Ray Cooney and moderator Mr. Christopher Buryta. Their famous pyramids and pep rallies have become part of school life here at the High.

1. The Pep Club leading the cut-off cheer at a pep rally. 2. A joint venture between U of D and De LaSalle. 3. Fred Bear at Homecoming.

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club rendered many valuable services to the school. This year's officers, Jerry Vincent, Tom Gulock, and Louis Moran, worked with moderator Mr. John Tenbusch to insure the Varsity Club was ready when the school needed it.

Varsity honor guards were present at many funerals. Again this year, the group sponsored the St. Patrick's Day Blood Bank which raised eighty-three pints of blood to insure the blood needs of the school community. Finally, the club ran refreshment stands which raised $3000 for the advancement of athletics.

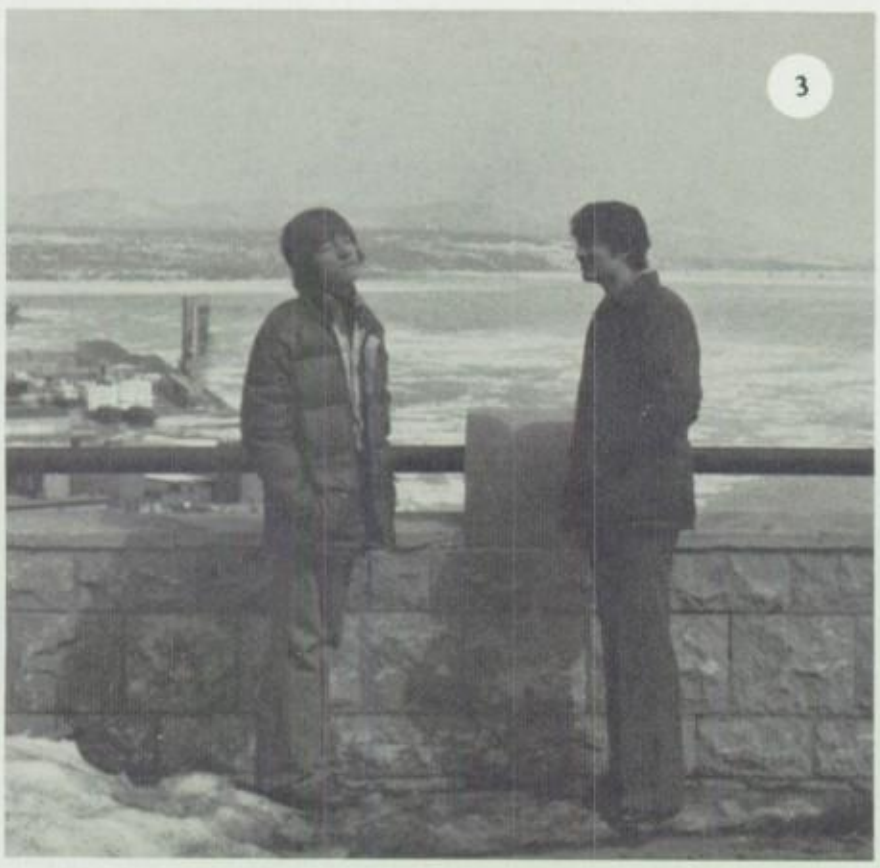
FRENCH CLUB



After several years' absence, LE CERCLE FRANCAIS or the French Club has made its way back into the U-D extracurriculars. The biggest problem was money. Bingo and bake sales helped solve that problem. As Secretary Bill Wroebel said, "We were a little unorganized." But to that Vice-president Victor McCoy quickly replied, "Well, it was our first year."

Club members got a chance to speak French (well, some of them did) when they went to Montreal and Quebec City in March. Many of them learned to appreciate French-Canadian culture, foods, wines, etc.

President D. Kevin McNeir hopes to see many members returning next year — as the club was dominated by underclassmen. Special thanks should go to Mrs. Crane for all of her help.

MUSIC

The U of D High Music Department offered a wide range of musical experiences to the student body. The various bands and chorus were under the direction of Mr. Stan Bawol with able assistance coming from Mr. John Ferone, S.J.

The Marching Band provided entertainment during the halftime of football games. With the Chorus, the Concert and Symphonic Bands put on a Cabaret, a Christmas, and a Spring Concert.

In the District Solo Ensemble, eight students received a number one rating. The District Band Festival held here saw the Symphonic Band get a disappointing number three rating.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club was moderated by Dr. Richard Moraski. Officers Joe Hanafee, Ken Miranda, and Chris Miranda led the group to one of its best years in recent times.

From the beginning, the group's major objective was to attend the American Chemical Society's Spring Meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana. To this end much work was done. Setting up and taking down for Bingo, sponsoring bagel sales and a Halloween Party were only some of their fund-raising methods .

Their goal was finally realized late in March as they departed for sunny New Orleans. There, the group spent eight days attending the ACS's lectures and exposition, cruising down the Mississippi, and taking in the night life of the French Quarter.

The University of Detroit High School's Centennial Auction took place on Saturday, March 12, 1977. When it was all over, more than $44,000 was made for the express purpose of the continuation of Jesuit education at UDHS.

Many people were involved in bringing about the Centennial Auction — President, Fr. P. Douglas Keller, S.J., co-chairpersons, Mrs. Jane Figiel and Mrs. Mary Gallant — just to mention a few. The effort called upon the entire U of D High community — the Mother's Club, Father's Club, faculty, and students.

The evening's agenda started with cocktails and a Silent Auction at 5:30 p. m., followed by an Oral Auction at 7:30 p. m. Dinner was served promptly at 9:00 p. m. The evening proved to be enjoyable for everyone involved.

The variety of items auctioned off was remarkable — cars, use of summer cottages, faculty services, free meals at restaurants, a case of Coors — and list goes on and on.

The evening attested to the fact that the spirit of U of D High is still alive and active, not just in the students, but in the entire U of D High family.

GRADUATION

One hundred years of Jesuit tradition culminated on May 26 with the graduation of the Class of '77. As has become the custom in recent years, the graduates gathered in the lower level of Ford Auditorium to don caps and gowns. Red-robed, they filed into the auditorium and onto the stage.

Valedictory speeches were given by Dave Czarnecki and Jim Kerwin. Perhaps, only at that moment did we realize that the full circle had been completed. Orientation, books, sockhops, teachers, meetings, parties, jugs, games — that had been U of D High; but now it was all over. As each individual went to receive his diploma, we could recognize the face — it was the same one we had been seeing for four years — but now it was different. The bond which had held us together had been broken. Each would go his separate way with U of D High behind, but always a part.

IN MEMORIAM
JOSEPH OVERALL JR.
Sept. 29, 1959- Jan. 1, 1977

Joseph Overall, Jr., was a senior at U of D High School. He suffered a tragic death New Year's morning as a result of an automobile accident. He was a member of the U of D baseball team, and also a member of the Gold Patent Medicine A's baseball team. Joseph was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Overall, Sr. On behalf of the entire U of D community we express our sympathy and promise our prayers.
